

SOLOMONS' SECRETS AUDITIONS - MARK

MARK

Don't worry. Roz knows. I told her as soon as I found out that Penny was pregnant. Confessed everything and we went to counselling. For years. It took so long to regain her trust. But we got there. We really did. A large part of it was never seeing the baby. I mean it was my decision to stay out of the picture. I didn't want anything to do with the baby. Penny didn't want anything to do with me anyway. She'd fallen in love with me and when she realised I had no intention of leaving Roz she packed up and moved interstate. I was lucky she told me the baby's name. I never promised her anything. I swear to you. I never said I'd leave my wife or that I loved her. I never said much at all really, it was purely physical for me. But she got the wrong idea. Not a day goes by that I don't think about that little girl. Where she is and what she's like. Does she look like me?
